

GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER

1864-1943

In his time Carver was one of the most famous dozen or so people in America. He is regarded as one of America's greatest agricultural researchers and educators. Carver observed that nature produces no waste - that in the natural world everything is a part of the whole.

