

LADONNA REDMOND - FOOD JUSTICE ACTIVIST

From Chicago to Minneapolis, LaDonna Redmond works to rebuild the urban food system. After facing limited access to nutritious, organic food options in her native Chicago community, Redmond was inspired to fight for a fairer food system. She's turned vacant lots into city farms and transformed Chicago Public School lunch to include salad bars. Redmond co-founded Chicago Food Systems Collaborative, founded Campaign for Food Justice Now, helped build and lead Seward Community Co-op, and can be heard on multiple podcasts.
